At a hearing on February 28, 2011, from 10:00 a.m. until 12:35 p.m., the Court heard argument on Plaintiffs' Motion for case management order (docket entry #7). Specifically finding that there was no evidence of any improper or coercive activity by the Defendants, the Court, exercising its general authority to supervise purported class actions, provided for a limited extension of the time for Defendants' settlement proposals to be accepted and consummated, and for limited additional information to be provided to putative class members, all as provided in more detail on the record of the hearing.
